MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Harold Reis
Attorney General's Office

Dear Hal:

Here is the copy of the brochure I mentioned on the phone. The advertiser is a well known New York autograph dealer, Charles Hamilton. The auction is set for 30 September. The estimated prices would yield about $5,000 less about 20 percent for handling charges. Presumably, Oswald's mother is the consignor. Our records indicate all items were seen by the Warren Commission. They also indicate that Item 142 was originally an exhibit in the Warren Commission Report numbered 321, but the Commission decided not to publish it and another exhibit was substituted.
